

c510

HERMINAFRID, the king of the THURINGIANS married Thordic's niece AMALABERGHT.

C 510

1912 Dates J-BK

480 - 524

BOETIUS

Christian writer
the most influential of all learned men of his time -

AD 510

The existence of hospitals in China dates back to AD 510 when one was set up for the sufferers from a serious epidemic in Shensi province. By the end of the Tang dynasty, there were government-organized hospitals for the poor, as well as leper hospitals.

C510

1912 Dates J-BK

C470-C510 DIONYSIUS EXIGUUS

A learned monk. A "Scythian by birth, but wholly Roman in other respects." His works include a collection of the first 50 canons of the apostles, the canons of 10 councils, and 38 decretals of the popes from 384 to 498 ( promulgated by Charlemagne in 802). Dionysius completed the paschal year and introduced the system of counting years from the birth of Christ.

Theodoric reached an agreement with Emperor Anastasius which ceded to Byzantium the civitas of Bassuna, i.e. the eastern part of Pannonia SIRMENSIS. Ravenna thus gave up former Gothic territory - the Huns had penetrated this far in their last attack against VALA MIR.

2510 $511

The Vandal king sided with GESALEC, when the Ostrogothic expeditionary force had driven out of Spain. The Visigothic had fled to Carthage, where he was supplied with such ample resources that he was able to return to his homeland and renew his resistance against Theodoric.

510 → 534

Rosenau appointed the tried and tested
LIBERIUS as praetorian prefect of Gaul;
he remained in office from 510 to 534, during the last 2 yrs even serving as supreme commander of the Gothic-Gallic troops with the rank of patricius praesentatus.
Even before his appointment as general, this Roman was considered a "military man" (exercitus vii) who had received "wounds"

BOETHIUS wrote his Geometria and arithmetic which formed the basis of mediæval mathematics.

510? - 600?

King Arthur in England

The 30 - year - old Boethius was accomplished enough as an intellectual and politician for Theodosius to tap him for consular and for several diplomatic missions including <sup>delivery</sup> of a water clock and sundial to the king of the Burgundians.

510

---

BOETHIUS becomes consul at Rome.

Ostrogoths and Visigoths fought each other for the 1st time since 451. This time, the Visigoths lost; GASSIUS was defeated; he fled and became a serious threat. He then enlisted support of the Vandals and went with King THRASAMUND's money to AQUITAIN, where he raised a Gothic army, this nearly brought on an Ostrogoth-Vandal war.

510

Clavis made Paris his Capital.